King attends part of meeting with tourism sector representatives

His Majesty King Abdullah on Monday said tourism sector growth calls for bolstering public-private cooperation to enhance Jordan's competitiveness as a popular destination in the region. In remarks while attending part of a meeting at Al Husseinia Palace that brought together Prime Minister Omar Razzaz and Tourism Minister Majd Shweikeh with sector representatives, King Abdullah called for focusing on tourism priorities around Jordan, stressing that there will be focus on the south in the coming months, followed by the north, to enhance tourism services, according to a Royal Court statement. His Majesty urged efforts towards teamwork and training youth to provide quality tourism services and reduce unemployment, noting the need to attract tourism investments and support youth-led projects in the sector. For his part, Prime Minister Omar Razzaz stressed the importance of public-private cooperation to boost tourism, highlighting the need to train youth to capitalise on opportunities in the sector and expressing the government's readiness to support tourism. Shweikeh said tourism is a key economic growth engine, underscoring the importance of working with the private sector to build on progress, ensure sustainability and empower local communities.

Senate committee approves 2020 state budget draft law

The Senate's Finance and Economy Committee on Monday approved the draft laws for the 2020 state budget and the budgets of independent government institutions as referred by the Lower House. Prime Minister Omar Razzaz, during the meeting chaired by Senate President Faisal Fayeze, said that the government and the constitutional authorities are working in an integrated manner towards creating a budget that responds to the Kingdom's opportunities and challenges. "Jordan cannot isolate itself from the region", which is experiencing accelerated events requiring preparation for a variety of scenarios, the premier said, expressing confidence in the Kingdom's ability to overcome the various challenges it faces. Razzaz also reviewed the government's measures adopted during the past year, including the stimulus packages, which came up with "tangible results" in various fields, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported.
