Audit Bureau chief meets with World Bank delegation

Audit Bureau President Assem Haddad and a delegation from the World Bank on Thursday met to discuss means of advancing cooperation in the supervisory and professional fields, in addition to developing the performance of the bureau's human resources. During the meeting, Haddad highlighted the bank's role in supporting and developing the Kingdom's public institutions. He expressed his readiness to cooperate with the bank to safeguard public funds and went over the bureau's plans to remain up-to-date with electronic developments and computerised systems, pointing out that development plans will be implemented over the next three years, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. The World Bank's representatives expressed the bank's readiness to cooperate with the bureau to enhance its work, including overseeing the projects funded by external grants.

Agreement signed to finance Rusaifa cesspit remedy

The Greater Amman Municipality (GAM) on Thursday signed a grant and loan financing agreement with its strategic partner the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) with the aim to provide a "comprehensive and definitive solution" to the environmental problems caused by the cesspit in Rusaifa known as the "Pepsi Pool". "Today we are gathered to review progress made on the Pepsi Pool project, especially given the multi-level partnership with the EBRD," Amman Mayor Yousef Shawarbeh said at a press conference on Thursday. The project is not only a technical solution for the 40-year-old problem, but also has an environmental focus, he said, adding that the Pepsi Pool will be converted into a park as soon as the technical phase is over. The tender for the design and implementation of the Pepsi Pool project will be finalised in the coming week, he said. The mayor noted that implementation of the tender will begin in March or April of next year. The project is expected to take 18 months at a total estimated cost of JD12 million, JD8 million as grants and JD4 million as a loan from the EBRD. This agreement is based on an original arrangement between GAM and the EBRD, under which GAM receives grants and loans in an accessible form, Shawarbeh said, noting that Engicon, a global engineering consulting firm based in Amman, conducted technical studies for the project
