France, Jordan sign 250-million-euro grant agreement to support judiciary, water sectors

The government and the French Development Agency (AFD) on Wednesday signed three soft loan agreements worth 250 million euros to finance projects to develop the judiciary and water sectors and reconstruct the sewage system in Balqa. Planning and International Cooperation Minister Wissam Rabadi, Acting French Charge d'Affaires Thierry Caboche and AFD Director in Amman Luc Le Cabellec signed the three agreements in the presence of Justice Minister Bassam Talhouni, according to a Planning Ministry statement. The first agreement entails a soft loan of 150 million euros, representing the AFD's contribution of the joint loan with the German Development Bank to fund water sector policy development through the general budget. The amount granted under the agreement will be disbursed in two rounds of 75 million euros each, the statement said, adding that this agreement is the third with the AFD to support water sector development. The second agreement, worth 40 million euros, will support the justice sector development policy through the general budget. The sum will be disbursed through three batches over the period of 2020-2022.

Jordan, UNRWA look forward to fruitful 2020

Minister of Foreign Affairs and Expatriates Ayman Safadi on Wednesday reaffirmed the established partnership between UNRWA and the Kingdom during a consultative meeting with UNRWA General-Commissioner Christian Saunders, according to a Foreign Ministry statement. During the meeting, Safadi and Saunders discussed steps to develop a joint work programme to communicate with international donors, secure the necessary funding for the agency's 2020 budget and ensure the agency's ability to continue providing its "vital services" to Palestinian refugees. The two officials also reviewed the agency's financial situation for the current year and discussed ways to bridge the deficit remaining from the 2019 budget. Safadi stressed the necessity of providing support to fill the funding gap, expressing hopes that the remainder of the supporting funds committed will be paid. Saunders expressed his appreciation for Jordanian efforts to mobilise international support for the agency under the directives of His Majesty King Abdullah, the statement added.
