King to hold talks with Qatar emir on Sunday

His Majesty King Abdullah will hold talks in Amman with Qatari Emir Tamim Bin Hamad Al Thani, who starts an official visit to Jordan on Sunday, according to a Royal Court statement. Talks will cover means to advance ties and activate cooperation in various areas, especially economic sectors, as well as regional developments, the statement said.

Hammouri, UAE minister talk economic cooperation

Industry, Trade and Supply Minister Tareq Hammouri and UAE Minister of Economy Sultan Mansouri have discussed means to enhance economic cooperation in various fields. During a meeting, held on the sidelines of Hammouri's participation in the 2020 Gulf Food exhibition, which concluded on Thursday, both ministers highlighted the importance of joint action to increase the trade volume and stimulate the private sector to attract investments, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported on Saturday. Hammouri visited some international companies in the UAE to discuss the possibility of establishing branches in Jordan, which offers investment opportunities and the advantage of free trade agreements that provide access to more than one billion consumers worldwide, according to Petra.

Kuwaiti envoy hails Jordan's investment environment

More than 430 Kuwaiti companies are registered at the Ministry of Industry, Trade and Supply, while 77 Kuwaiti investors run businesses in Jordan through the Amman Chamber of Commerce, Kuwaiti Ambassador to Jordan Aziz Al Daihani said on Saturday. During an interview with the Jordan News Agency, Petra, on the occasion of Kuwait's 59th National Day and 29th Liberation Day, Daihani said that many Kuwaiti investors are "eager" to launch investments in the Kingdom, which offers an "encouraging investment environment" and laws that protect investments.
