US grants Jordan $745 million as part of ongoing support

USAID has granted the Treasury around $745 million under a cash transfer agreement signed on Sunday, the last one of its kind for 2019. The agreement was signed by Minister of Planning and International Cooperation Wissam Rabadi and Mission Director of USAID Jim Barnhart in the presence of Prime Minister Omar Razzaz and Charge d'Affaires of the American Embassy Karen Sasahara. Rabadi said at the signing that this grant will be part of the 2019 budget, “contributing to reducing the budget deficit, as it is expected that the value of the grant will be transferred to the Treasury’s account before the end of the current year”.

Finance minister meets with WB officials over Jordan's economic reforms, relations

Finance Minister Mohamad Al-Ississ has met with World Bank (WB) President David Malpass and other officials in Washington DC over the economic situation in Jordan. Al-Ississ also reviewed the government's recent decisions that focus on enhancing financial stability and stimulating exports, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported on Friday. The minister also briefed the international lender on procedures that aim at providing a better environment for business and investment in the Kingdom through reducing the operational costs in the real estate and energy sectors, so as to redirect the economy towards achieving growth, Petra said. Discussions also focused on the activities of the WB and the International Finance Corporation in Jordan, partnership between the public and private sectors and progress in the implementation of the reforms launched during the London conference.

4th gov't economic incentive package to be rolled out next week — Adailleh

Minister of State for Media Affairs Amjad Adailleh on Sunday said that the government will announce the fourth and final executive package to improve the national economy next week. The package will focus on the services sector, and will include decisions and measures that improve the quality of services provided to citizens, the Jordan News Agency, Petra reported. The fourth package comes within the framework of the government's commitment to an integrated economic programme that stimulates the national economy, Adailleh said.
